Judas' Kiss of Death

Did Judas Keep His Pledge to Jesus?

Should We Follow Christ or Judas ?

" . . He kneeled down and prayed, saying Father, if Thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless not my will, but Thine, be done. And there appeared unto Him an angel from heaven, strenghtening Him. And being in an agony He prayed more earnestly; and His sweat became as it were great drops of blood falling down upon the ground. And when He rose up from His prayer, He came unto the disciples, and found them sleeping for sorrow, and said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and pray, that ye enter not into temptation.

"While He yet spake, behold, a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them; and drew near Jesus to kiss Him, and said, Hail, Rabbi and kissed Him. But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss?"

Roosevelt's Pledge of Peace

In October, 1940, at Philadelphia, President Roosevelt said:

"I give to you and to the people of this country this most solemn assurance. There is no secret treaty, no secret obligation, no secret commitment, no secret understanding in any shape or form, direct or indirect, with any other government, or any other nation in any part of the world—no such secret that might or could, in any shape, involve this nation in any war or for any other purpose. Is that clear? . . The United States today is at peace and is going to remain at peace."

October 24, he said: "I repeat again that I stand on the platform of our party: 'We will not participate in foreign wars'."

On that platform he was elected to a third term.

But already he has whipped through congress the lend-lease bill which commits us to take part in any war, "everywhere in the world", to uphold the "four freedoms", except keeping the pledge of peace to his own people in these U. S. A.

Step by step, as a people, we are walking up the road of the cross to Calvary and crucifixion of American youth, having by vociferous majorities in congress rejected Christ and chosen Barabbas, doing the bidding of the synagogue of Satan, who has taken the President unto an exceedingly high mountain, and showeth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; and he said unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me. Then the President did not say unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve. And wherefore the devil left him not; and behold the angels departed and could not minister unto him and he broke his pledge of peace to the American People.

"O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, that killed the prophets, and stoneth them that are sent unto her! how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathered her chickens unto her wings, and ye would not! Behold, your house is left unto you desolate.

"And as He went forth out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto Him, Teacher, behold, what manner of stones and what manner of buildings; And Jesus said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left here one stone upon another, which shall not be thrown down."

World Crisis Tests Christian Civilization

Christian civilization either will be vindicated in the United States in the months to come, or it will fade out of the world for the time being, Dr. E. Stanley Jones of India said:

"For that reason I have canceled my passage for my home and family in India," the Christian leader said. "Through swiftly changing events, this country has become the nerve-center of the Christian approach to problems.

"No Christian leader is needed anywhere in the world more than he is needed in the United States right now. I am remaining here."

Dr. Jones has cabled his wife, Mrs. Mabel Jones, head of a girls' school in Sitapur, India, of his change of plans. Another message has gone to his daughter, who grew up in India, and who was married there last summer to the Rev. James K. Matthews of Duhlia, India.

Although Dr. Jones went to India as a Methodist missionary, his church "lent" him 25 years ago to an inter-denominational organization, under whose auspices he has visited all Christian missions in India.

India Troubled

"The situation there continues to be troubled and complicated," he said. "India wants to be free of British domination more than ever, and the most the British have offered is that at the close of the war India will be permitted to have dominion status. The people of India have not said they do not want dominion status, but are making it clear that what they do want is to be a free people, to freely choose whether they shall have dominion status, or be independent of England entirely.

"Under the leadership of Mahatma Gandhi, the country is doing nothing that might aid Germany in her efforts to dominate the English. But it is keeping very much alive the issue of not wanting England to dominate India."

Speaking at a mass meeting in the First Presbyterian church, with the Rev. Thomas Law Coyle presiding, Dr. Jones answered the question: "Is the Kingdom of God Realism?"

Sees 'Inside Disruption'

"The central doubt in the world today is whether the Christian way will work either for the individual or for nations," he said. "There is some feeling that the program outlined by Jesus may work in heaven, but not in Europe, Asia and the Americas in 1941, where it is said we must take a realistic attitude.

"But when we think clearly, we see that the four most disruptive influences in the world today are to be found within ourselves. They are resentment, anxiety, self-centeredness and a sense of guilt.

"Scientists assure us that these are not only disruptive spiritually and mentally, but physically. They disrupt the health of our bodies and our world affairs.

'Christian Way, Civil Way'

"The only realistic approach we can take toward correcting what is wrong in the world is the Christian opposities of those disruptive forces. The opposites are: Goodwill for all, faith in God and the way of God, willingness that all others may have all that you want for yourself, and the understanding that man can cease to be guilty of wrong doing and realize his relationship to the Father."

To revolt against the Christian way, is to revolt against the civilized way, and against one's self, the speaker said.

Dr. Jones spoke in the afternoon to a youth group that filled the First Methodist church, and he answered for the high school and college students the question: "What Can Modern Youth Believe?"

He discussed the relationship of science and religion, pointing out that the power of science is a blind power that must be directed for good or ill. It is the function of Christianity, he said, to direct the forces of science into channels of blessings for all mankind.

Links Science, Religion

"Together, science and religion can remake the world," Dr. Jones asserted. "Just as science needs to be used for Christian purposes, religion needs the techniques of science. We should carefully test Christianity, see if and how it works."

Dr. Jones' first lecture here was given at the Kiwanis club luncheon program in the San Diego club, with Dr. Frank Lowe presiding. Members of other service clubs and San Diego business men, attended.

Handful Created Nazism

"A determined minority is able to shape the destiny of a country and its people," the visitor said. "Only a handful of men created Nazism in Germany, and Facism in Italy.

"Both movements were able to succeed because man needs some authority on which he can rely. God and religion as this guide, leader, and protector had been overlooked; and so the people turned to a person, a class, or a state.

"In the United States a determined minority would find its chance chiefly because of the chasms between the church and labor, industry, races—and between the churches themselves."

Dr. Jones urged the Kiwanis club to stress the importance of Christian thinking and acting in the community, particularly in its contacts with youth.

Lemon Juice as a Sideline

Three San Diego concerns who have been in business for some time supplying restaurants, saloons, dine & dance places, coctail bars with lemons, limes, juices, cherries, etc. have complained to me that a liquor license inspector from the California State Board of Equalization has taken their best customers away from them by entering the busines himself, as a sideline. They say that after they hollered about it to his superiors, he withdrew nominally from the business, turning it over to a neighbor, while the inspector's wife is doing her part.

I called on Merle Templeton, liquor administrator. "What is there to the complaint about your inspector operating a supply business as a sideline?"

"There is nothing to it", replied Templeton. I made my own investigation and I am satisfied the inspector is no longer in that business at present. What he did previously does not concern me, as long as he is not now in the business".

"Was he ever in that business?"

"What he did previously is no concern of mine."

"That does not satisfy me. If he ever started in business while he was in your employ, it must be your concern, even if now he is no longer in that business. From what I have been told, he is supposed to have taken away the best accounts, who were afraid not to buy his superior products, and even though now his neighbor is nominally doing the business, those customers know whose business it really is and are afraid to drop it."

"I know he owns a lemon orchard and he has a right to sell his lemons to whomever he pleases," countered Templeton. "There have been too many charges made against inspectors that are untrue and I know how to handle such charges."

"But as long as the best accounts are buying your inspector's lemons, even though he sells them nominally to his neighbor, who peddles them to the liquor stores for cocktails, etc., I am not satisfied with your explanations."

"You know, de Aryan, that nobody in my employ would do such a thing, I would not stand for it."

"I hope so, but in the meantime I'll get at the bottom of this."

The California State Civil Service Board rules say:

No state officer or employee shall engage in any other activity or enterprise inconstistent or incompatible or in conflict with his dutics as a state officer or employee.

Sen. Nye to Speak at Russ Auditorium

A mass meeting has been called by the America First Committee for Thursday night, April 3, at the Russ auditorium to hear U. S. Senator Gerald P. Nye speak on "Keeping out of War".

Why America Goes to War

Jews Plan Post-War Aid

NEW YORK,—Formation of a research institute to prepare a program for post-war reconstruction of Jewish life in Europe, including claims for reparation of losses suffered by Jews since 1933, was announced by Dr. Stephen S. Wise, president of the American Jewish congress.

April Fooling US

THE ROOSEVELTS and WILLKIES are certainly getting chummy. Politics is not the only point of contact. It is announced that Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Mrs Wendell L. Willkie, wives of the 1940 presidential rivals, will meet for the first time in a social way at the annual stunt party of the Women's National Press club on April's Fools' Day. Their husbands have been drawing closer together on opinions and public policy for many weeks.

How Hitler Happened

"France and England created Hitler at the close of the first world war when they made it so hard on the German people. They planted the seed for another war, so he is their baby. Let them take care of him. I am opposed to Hitler and all he stands for, but he is not our baby."—Louis M. Reed, Thermopolis, Wyo.

"The accumulation of the nation's wealth in the hands of a few men in Germany created a Hitler, and as sure as God made little fishes, so surely and irresistably we are going to have in time our Hitler as a result of the monopolistic plutocracy we are creating in this nation."
—Alfred Kroan, Egg Harbor City, N. J.

Shall We Defend Democracy ?

Senate Bloc Urges Ballot On War Funds

WASHINGTON,—Six senate non-interventionists jointly sponsored a proposal to require a national referendum before congress could authorize or appropriate money for use of the armed forces outside the western hemisphere.

They introduced their resolution a few hours after Pres. Roosevelt, cruising off the Florida coast, signed the $7,000,000,000 British aid appropriation bill. His signature automatically released the vast fund for planes, ships, guns, food and other war aid to embattled Britain and perhaps to Greece, China and Jugoslavia.

Sponsors Named

The referendum plan was sponsored by Sens. Gerald P. Nye (R-ND), Burton K. Wheeler (D-Mont), Arthur Capper (R-Kan), Robert M. La-Follette jr. (P-Wis), D. Worth Clark (D-Id), and Henrik Shipstead (R-Minn).

It would require only a majority vote of both house and senate. It would not call for any action by the president. It would direct congress to call a "national advisory election" when and if it was faced with the question of sending land, naval or air forces outside this hemisphere.

The Way of the Cross

The 12 Stations to Calvary

The Columbia University survey, financed by the oil pirate's loot, the Rockefeller Foundation, shows that more people are reading the newspapers more than ever.

It is plain that more people are anxious to find out how the Judas Kiss of Rosevelt and Wee Wendell Willkie is working out on them. They have been told to rejoice because England is fighting our war of democracy and all we have to do is finance it and supply the arsenal. But they are watching the papers to find out how those 4 million identification tags and coffins are going to be used and what the new outfitting of transport ships means. They wonder when the boys in the national guard are going to finish their "one year training" as well as the others who were drafted for that purpose.

They know that the Judas kiss means crucifixion and so they are all intent watching how industry, as well as youth and taxpayers, are being shoved along from one station step to the next up the bloody road to Calvary where American Liberty is being crucified finally on the Judas Cross of Gold that this nation may collect the claims of Rothschild and Co. against Germany.

Oh yes, the people are reading the newspapers allright and they are learning a lot. And those lessons they learn will be used against the betrayers of their trust when the reckoning comes. They did not believe that such treachery can happen here, but they are learning fast and they are learning to deal with realities.

Taxmonies for Zionism

You hear much protest against the charge that Communism is Jewish, is one of the branches of Zionism, deliberately foisted and nurtured to weaken every national government and undermine the individual prosperity of every non-Jewish producer to the end that the Zionists may rule the earth with nominal headquarters in Jerusalem. You hear it often said that the Protocols of Zion are a forgery. The fact is the Swiss courts ruled that no proof was adduced about the forgery claim and that it is not libelous to publish the charge of the identity of Zionism and Communism. But the Protocols of Zion are beside the point; they could be forgeries and still the facts would prove the identity of aims, methods and control of Zionism and Communism.

But few people are aware that U. S. taxmonies are being used to promote Zionism. Ben Cohen has been sent as official advisor to Ambassador Winant to London and the U. S. pays his salary and expenses. But Ray Tucker discloses in the National Whirligig column that Ben Cohen is in London to revive the Balfour pact for a homeland in Palestine in accordance with Zionist plans. Tucker also reports that Cohen wrote the Balfour pact as advisor to the then Justice of the Supreme Court Louis Brandeis, head of Zionism in America. And the same Brandeis prevailed upon President Wilson to intercede for East Side Jew Bronstein (alias Leon Trotsky) to be released from British custody that he may proceed to Russia to carry on the Bolshevist revolution. And Wilson did intercede upon request of the Zionists and what Trosky did to Russia and the world at large is history.

Now please, explain, why do we have to support with taxmonies the activities of the Zionists and give them official standing to make this nation a slave tied to its chariot?!!

Et Tu Brutus ?!

When Caesar was stabbed by Brutus he is supposed to have cried out in agony: "Et tu Brutus!" Brutus was supposed to be his friend just as President Roosevelt pledged his word to America's youth that he stood upon the Democratic platform of no participation in foreign wars, "the United States today is at peace and is going to remain at peace".

And in San Diego the UNION, our morning daily, is now taking the part of Brutus. Listen to what this brute is claiming now and charging the American people with general approval of going to war by the side door:

"Assuming that there is general American approval of the course that has been followed by the administration—and there is no other assumption because the position of Mr. Roosevelt has been known ever since the outbreak of the war and he was re-elected last November—it must be further assumed that whatever mistakes may have been made in the past, if we have made any, now must be charged up to experience. Which leaves us now facing the necessity of taking an active part in the British campaign if we are to fulfill our pledges of aid."

What brutal assumption to take! The American people never approved of going to war. The responsible Americans all were united in denouncing the step by step aid to England as leading inevitably to war and the two party platforms solemnly pledge this country's continued peace.

What Americans must charge to experience is that both the UNION and Roosevelt, as well as all the other warmongers are a bunch of unmitigated liars and traitors to the peace and welfare of America.

The UNION may charge Americans with being incurable optimists who still hoped that the President would keep his pledges, even though experience already has shown in previous instances that he is nothing but an unscrupulous politician whose pledges mean no more than Hitler's pledges of no invasion of small nations. Hitler has a plan, Rosevelt has a plan. Neither of them permit moral and spiritual considerations to stand in the path of their grandiose temptation to be "Fuehrers of the new era". The one against the Jews, the other under the Jews, who are world financiers and the real rulers and plotters.

Postal Press Censors

WASHINGTON,—Senator Guy Gillett (Dem.) of Iowa, has introduced two bills in the U. S. Senate, both of which provide against those subversives who attack all races and religions and who use the mails in the furtherance of their propaganda.

The first bill establishes a propaganda bureau with a paid director to investigate all propaganda and place before the public the result of its findings and it authorizes an expenditure of $500,000 for that purpose.

The second bill would ban the use of the mails for any propaganda that tends to incite "arson, murder, assassination, riots or fraudulent or scurilous matter attacking any racial or religious groups and banning the same kind of material emanating from any foreign sources unless the same is fully labeled as such." It also bans use of such material in behalf of any candidate for public federal office.

The 'New Order' In War 'Declaration'

Remember how odd we once thought it was that Japan was in China, bombing, shooting and bayoneting and actually taking over much of the country and still no declaration of war? And again, how strange it seemed when Germany marched into Poland and other countries and Russia stripped down Finland, all without a declaration of war or even an admission of the fact that they were at war, pretending, in some cases, that they were "protecting" the conquered countries? Here we are, practically at war with Germany and the axis, as we have been for some time, and still no declaration. It reminds us of the childhood game, "Let's pretend". Russia Will Win the War

KGB wave lenght has changed to 1360 Kilocycles
(Over KGB, Wednesday 7:15 pm, March 27, 1941)

I have been a prophet many a time in world affairs and my statements were subsequently proven true, because I do not let sentiment influence my judgment. I dig down to bedrock and deal with fundamental causes as well as those factors who ar pulling the strings on the world stage. It has been cooked up in advance and figured out to an iota. Great upheavals do not just happen. Somebody has to do a lot of scheming (while the rest of us are sleeping) and then do a lot of work to put it over. Of course, they cannot hide their hand, it all comes out in the wash, only the great mass of the people are too occupied with their little pleasures to sober up long enough to think.

Look back to the events in the first world war. When Russia was licked and checkmated by Germany the U. S. took its place in the war; but Russia licked its wounds, kept up its subversive activities in all countries and is watching its chance, while it encourages the spread of war all over the world, encouraging and egging on both Germany and its opponents to get at each other. The more the socalled capitalistic nations can hurt each other and Germany, the better chance for subversive activity to result in the Bolshevist revolution in Germany and everywhere else.

This reminds me that when Bronstein from New York was sent out to Russia, the British stopped him in transit, but Louis Brandeis, then Justice of the Supreme Court, intervened with President Wilson and upon Wilson's specific request, Bronstein was released by the British to start the revolution in Russia which he carried out under his better known name of Leon Trotsky. Those interests who were behind Trotsky then are still working in making over the world pattern.

The Balfour Pact for Palestine

Ray Tucker, writing from Washington for the National Whirligig, announces: "The secret reason for sending Ben Cohen to London as Ambassador Winant's economic advisor is that the new deal braintruster was instrumental in framing the famous Balfour pact. This World war pledge to make Palestine a homeland for the Jews has not worked out well. Cohen has long been a crony of Louis D. Brandeis, former supreme court justice and erstwhile head of the Zionist movement. It was because of this association that Cohen served as an advisor in drawing up the Balfour agreement. Ben's part in that affair is better known to the British and the pact's supposed beneficiaries than it is in the United States."

Firemen Hailed Back into Court

KGB wave lenght has changed to 1360 Kilocycles
(Over KGB, Wednesday 7:15 pm, March 27, 1941)

The San Diego firemen, about 200 of them, imagined they had me stopped from contesting their petition for a 29% increase in salary, when every other city employee is going to get only an 8% raise, if any, according to plans of the city hall administration for adjusting salaries of city employees to conform with the increase in costs of living. But I never give up when I start a contest based on principle and good government. I had charged in my suit that the firemen used fraudulent methods in getting electors to sign their petition by not telling them that it contained a raise in wages, while the firemen are better paid than the policemen, who should be first in line for a raise to be placed nearly on an even footing with the firemen's pay. Did you know that not a single fireman has been killed in the line of duty during a period of 15 years past, but policemen have been killed. Why not be realistic about it?

We will be back in court next Monday morning to argue before Judge Haines whether I must bring in 10,000 witnesses to prove my case against the firemen or whether it is enough to bring in evidence that such fraud was widely committed by various circulators of petitions in various parts of the city. This is a case where we might set a new precedent for the protection of taxpayers when a small group of beneficiaries make highpressure use of the initiative system for their own profit at the expense of all the taxpayers.

Reciprocal Trade for Britain

A committee has been formed in New York to encourage reciprocal trade with Britain by urging Americans to buy British goods. Reciprocity means that in return Britain will buy American goods. As things are, our two daily papers in San Diego have carried pictures of packages of tobacco which were returned from London because even though the Overseas Committee to aid British soldiers collects cash in the U. S. to supply tobacco to the soldiers, they want the cash, not the goods. They buy the goods from Turkey with our money. That's a funny kind of reciprocity.

Jerry Voorhis Proposes Constitutional Credit

Dear Friend:

When the bill to increase the national debt limit to $65,000,000,000 was before the House, I offered an amendment to it which would have prevented the necessity for any increase in the interest bearing debt in the country. The amendment provided for the purchase by Congress for the stock of the Twelve Central Federal Reserve banks and thereafter have a direct extension of no interest credit by such banks to the Treasury. In explaining my amendment, I said in spoken part as follows: "The one major point which I shall make—and I beg the House to please listen for only 4½ minutes—is this: Whenever credit or money is created against the resources of a whole nation, that credit creation should be performed by a public body and without the contraction of an interest burden or an interest-bearing debt. My amendment is designed for that purpose. Various gentlemen continuously make the point that the Federal Reserve banks do, to all intents and purposes, belong to the government. As a matter of fact, of course, the United States Government owns not one penny of the stock of these institutions. But if the gentlemen persist in taking the position which they do, then why not purchase for $136,000,000 the capital stock of those 12 central institutions? At present those 12 central banks create credit, and with that credit they purchase not only the paper of member banks but also the interest-bearing obligations of the United States. Those bonds of the United States can, under present law, be used as security for an issue of Federal Reserve notes, and those notes are obligations of the United States, though issued by and for the benefit of private banks. Hence, when the Federal Reserve banks buy interest-bearing bonds of the United States, they obviously buy them with the credit of the people of the United States and of the Government itself.

"I have here a paper by Mr. Goldenweiser, chief research expert of the Federal Reserve Board, entitled "The Nature of the Federal Reserve Banks", in which he says:

" 'A Reserve bank, on the other hand, derives the funds available for its loans and investments from powers conferred upon it by Congress. The capital it has is prescribed by Congress and constitutes a small part of the funds at its disposal. The other source of funds of the Reserve banks is its power to issue notes and to accept and create deposits.' "

"Note, please, the words "create deposits". It is with these created deposits that bonds of the United States are bought. My contention is that if any institution in the United States is to enjoy the right to create credit, to create deposits, in order to purchase the obligation of the whole American people, that institution should be a public institution; that now, while we are attempting to marshal the resources of the Nation in a great defense program—manpower, industry, agricultural resources--all over the country, we should at least retain the right to use the credit of our own people without the necessity of paying interest on it." My amendment was not agreed to by the House, but I am convinced that we are making progress constantly in winning support for a constitutional monetary system.

Sincerely yours,
JERRY VOORHIS.

British World Markets Are First

Scratching Heads

WASHINGTON,—American manufacturers are scratching their heads over seeming inconsistencies in the three embattled nations' handling of industrial controls over war materials—the United States, England and Canada.

Unless an American industry is manufacturing defense articles, under the OPM's priority order it cannot obtain aluminum. Many smaller plants—some place the figure as high as 2000—will have to fire their men to liquidate. Canada has an even more drastic aluminum law. But American manufacturers can obtain plentiful supplies of the metal from the Aluminum Co. of Canada. Our northern neighbor needs American dollars, and is glad to exchange aluminum for them.

Machine tools, next to a shortage of skilled labor, constitute the chief national defense bottleneck. Priorities have been established on them. But numerous American firms are receiving regularly consignments of costly and complicated machine tools from Great Britain. Naturally, they wonder why a nation untouched by war directly—the United States— and supposed to be the world's industrial citadel, should have to skimp, while Britain and Canada can continue "business as usual".—Ray Tucker.

You're Damned If You Do and Damned If You Don't

Oh Shades of Lafayette !

My dear Mr. de Aryan:

Thank you for your informative note written on the day Saint Patrick banished the snakes from Ireland—accounting perhaps for the Jews' disinterest in that country—said note informing me that you are not one of our own American sons, but a foreigner who "came to the U. S. to be your own boss". Naturally this would account for any difference of opinion you and I might have on national affairs in my own native U. S. A.

Were it necessary for us to educate all this foreign rabble of dissenters, malcontents and revolutionaries to our true American history, culture and ideals, before we could do anything about it to save ourselves, then indeed would our plight be hopeless and our doom sealed; but thank God this is not the case. All we have to do is finish the job of educating our Army and Navy, for it is a job that will fall to them in the finals anyway—and believe you me, they are being educated in a double quick hurry, almost over night. They're even fighting over the literature at the forts now, and the nit-wit parents in the homes are being educated through their sons who are the draftees.

So, the Commander-in-Chief of the League of War Veteran Guardsmen is not such a "penny minded soul" as you may wish he were. If you knew just one-tenth of what he has thrown in the discard and forgotten you would be a far wiser editor. He was an editor too of his own Veterans' Magazine, and was at one time on the editorial staff of Plain Talk Magazine. His father before him had been a secret service investigator in world service for thirty years before he was born; so don't let your head swell to bursting because of your egotism just because America places no restrictions on the egotist.

Possibly you have not been in this country long enough to learn how business is conducted here. The Yellow Cab Company is a national syndicate headed by Jews, as I told you. Each local company gets its franchise from the national syndicate; and the shanty Irish are strong for the Jews and cater to them to get to serve them. It is the same here in Tacoma; but self-respecting people here call the Washington Cab service, not the Yellow.

You said you would return my "stuff"; but you sent only the OPEN LETTER to Willkie which is not mine and has already flooded the Nation. You may send me back, if you will be so obliging, my article on Queen Esther and the Festival of the Purim, which I headed, SLEEP ON THOU SLUMBERING AMERICANS — IGNORANCE MAY BE BLISS.

America for Americans,
MRS. LOIS de LAFAYETTE WASHBURN,
Tacoma, Washington.

Editor's Note:—Mrs. Washburn prides herself on the French blood which she explained in a previous letter, makes her a little hotheaded at times. She presumed to tell me how to run THE BROOM, what advertising to accept and which to refuse. She strenously objected to my carrying the Yellow Cab adv. on the grounds that it was Jewish.

Now I happen to have been raised among Jews and know their weaknesses as well as their good sides. While I will not allow them to impose on me, neither will I persecute them. As to the international aspirations of the Zionists, Communists and International Bankers, I do not believe it Christlike in any way to take that out on the individual Jews who are my neighbors, even though I might be on guard against them. But I will never take the offensive.

Of course, I have no French blood, I don't believe, only Greek and Polish; evidently that makes me a poor American while Lafayette was a good American because he was French and one of his descendants is an A-1 American, as incarnate in Mrs. Washburn, because she is an indiscriminate Jew baiter.

As it happens I am well able to hold my own against both, the Semites and the anti-Semites, because my ideal of Americanism is rugged individualism of the man who applies the Golden Rule in practice and hates no man. Thus I continue unafraid, no matter how far Mrs. Washburn has strayed from the aims for which her illustrious ancestor came to this country and fought, that he, too, may be his own master, beholden to none.

The trouble with these Jewbaiters is they are as bad tyrants as they are narrow minded.

If you know what I am talking about, you will have noticed that Southerners have very little trouble with colored people. They know how to get along with them and those whose mammies were colored, have even affection for them. At the same time, they keep them in their places and everything works out well. It is in the north where there is bitter feeling between the colored and the white people.

I was raised among Jews and know them. I never give in to them and if needs be, they even learn to fear me, because I am uncompromising. But I have no illwill, fear, nor do I see any need of holding them down. I have learned that as long as I mind my own business and make them mind theirs they cannot take advantage of me. If the "good Americans" were minding their own business instead of getting drunk and wasting life away and energies, there would be no Jewish problem in the U. S. The scheming and cunning Jews merely take advantage of shortcomings.

So start out with Number One.

I wonder if Mrs. Washburn is a nudist, since the clothing industry is controlled by Jews.

Natural Brands, Incorporated
4328 San Fernando Road, Glendale, California

Dear Mr. de Aryan:

My firm has instructed me to discontinue submitting any further literary efforts to the BROOM, and to advise you to refrain from releasing any unpublished material from my pen still in your possession. They likewise respectfully requested me to ask you to discontinue the complimentary advertisements you have so graciously accorded Natural Brands, Inc., in exchange for my offerings.

The appearance of my writings and Natural Brands advertising in the BROOM is creating a lot of illwill for them on the part of both dealer and consumer; because of your alleged anti-Jewish, anti-American and apparently pro-Hitler policies.

I deeply regret the necessity of writing you in this vein, in view of our past pleasant relationship over a period of years, as well as your generous publicity awarded to Natural Brands, whether my short treatises made their appearance or not.

It will interest you to know that I have been recently awarded an honorary Doctor of Science degree.

Cordially yours,
LILLIAN R. CARQUE, Sc. D.
Natural Brands Research.

Editor's Note:—Lillian Carque is Jewish, but we did not discriminate against her, but continued carrying her advertisement free of charge because of the good work she is doing as a dietician. But evidently she must obey the Jewish dictatorship in the U. S. now that she has an honorary "Doctor" degree.

Can You ?

Can you barefoot wade through rivers,
Walk without your shoes on sand?
And bare-headed stand the sunlight
As it beats upon your hand?

Can you stand all accusations
And still keep your temper well?
Can you bear such degradations,
When but falsehood has to tell?

Can you, after working goodness,
Shedding nothing but true light—
Can you still withold from madness,
When you meet but "teeth of might"?

If you all of this meet gladly,
And be ever ca'm and sweet,
Murmur not however badly,
Ev'rywhere you get mistreat.

If you feel that work and fasting,
Abstinence from food and drink,
Makes your pray'r just ever-lasting,
You have found the "missing link",

Then you are just like the Master,
Free from sin and poverty,
And the worlds will move you faster
Toward days of liberty.

Unrobing The Ghosts of Wall Street

By CHARLES G. BINDERUP

The Crime of 1920

Do you know what causes panics and depressions? Do you know why farm values fell from 66 billion dollars in 1920 to 34 billion dollars a few years later? Do you know why 1,500,000 farmers lost their farm by foreclosures? Why the 20,000,000 unemployed lost their jobs? Why 85% of our people are living below the American standard of living? Why 1-16 of our population depends on W.P.A. alone for the bare necessities of life, besides those who are on direct relief and various other kinds of doles? Why a great Nation is losing its Democratic form of Government?

If you would like to know, the answer can be found by reading actual facts about the crime of 1920, which caused our Nation to go bankrupt, when 52 international bankers held a secret meeting in the Treasury Building in Washington. It is about such things as these that I am going to tell you through my articles in the California Grange News.

Buried Bankers' Gold

I am in receipt of a letter from a cousin, Rudolph Falkenstijerne in Denmark, my native country. He addressed me as Honorable Congressman. He evidently has not been informed that I am no longer in Congress.

Rudolph is a stockholder in some gold mining properties in South Africa.

He writes me as follows in part: . . . "Of course you people in America know as well as we do what this war is all about . . . If England loses in this war, Europe and the world will go off the gold standard . . . We must fight to preserve the gold standard. It's the old traditional money of the world. . . All Government bonds and international settlements are based on gold. . . . To destroy this sacred money would be a crime against the civilized nations of the world. . . . So we here in Denmark hope and believe you in your great, big, generous America will join in the fight to maintain the gold standard of the world." The letter is postmarked from London, England.

How the Gold Got There

It might interest you to know definitely just how it is that three-fourths of the gold of the world got into the Kentucky hole and when it gets there it belongs to the International Bankers, although Uncle Sam pays for the gold in full.

A bit of an example. Recently when Rudolph's Company accumulated some of this gold in South Africa, they sent it to Rothschild's bank in London, as is usual, telling them to buy Federal Land Bank bonds in the United States for the gold (Rudolph's Company prefers these bonds as they are, a specific mortgage on a good farm and a blanket mortgage on two thirds of a million of the best farms of the United States, and are taxexempt and bear 4½% interest).

Rothschild's bank sends the gold to their American correspondents, the House of Morgan with instructions to buy these bonds on the market. The House of Morgan sends the gold to Morgenthau, Secretary of the Treasury, and he (Morgenthau) sends a check payable at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York to the House of Morgan for the amount of gold and at the same time he (Morgenthau) sends a Gold Certificate for the entire amount of gold to cover the check when it is presented for payment at the bank. This gold certificate is a warehouse receipt transferring the full title to the gold to the Federal Reserve Bank.

Further proof that it is the purpose of the gold certificate to carry title to the gold is evidenced by the fact the treasury report shows this gold certificate as a debt or liability and the report of the Federal Reserve Bank shows the gold certificate as an asset. So there is definitely no question about who owns the gold in the Kentucky hole.

Printing Press Money

When the House of Morgan presents this check to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, it is paid in Federal Reserve currency that has been printed for the banks by our government at a cost to the banks of 30 cents for $1,000 or the cost of printing the money. Did you know our government prints hundreds of millions of dollars in this Federal Reserve currency, charging the banks approximately 30c for a thousand dollars worth of currency and sends this money in large bundles (millions of dollars) to each one of the twelve Federal Reserve banks to hold in their vaults and to use when in their opinion paper is eligible for purchase, or loans on eligible paper to member banks. That these banks hold these millions of dollars in their vaults without interest and without bond? But the fact we virtually gave the banks the money wherewith they bought the gold does not alter the matter they bought for their own money.

In the Senate and in the House you hear the members of Congress criticize our government for not using this vast amount of gold in the Kentucky hole as a reserve whereon to base an expanded currency supply to keep pace with a growing nation. The next time a member of the Senate or the House makes this statement from the floor, wouldn't it be wonderful if someone would explain that we have no gold, that it belongs to the American branch of the International Bankers, the Federal Reserve Banks of the United States. And the old policy of basing our money on gold that belongs to someone else, would be like building your home on a lot to which you hold no deed.

CHARLES G. BINDERUP,
President, The Constitutional Money League of America.

Careless Smokers

More than a quarter of all men who died from burns suffered in the home are the victims of careless smoking, according to a study and announcement by the statisticians of one of the leading life insurance companies — and they ought to know. Now that is a startling statement. But it will not even register on the brain (mind) of a smoker. Besides that, we are not interested nearly so much in that as we are in the fact that non-smokers have to be eternally "cleaning up" after the smokers. Did you ever notice that statement to be the truth—in the home, in the office, anywhere? It's the non-smokers who have that something in them that wants to see the ashes and cigaret-butts cleaned up and not spilled over the furniture, the floor or in the butter. Of course, you have deducted by this time that we (editorial we) DO NOT SMOKE!—Daily Times-Advocate, Escondido.

Arizona Supreme Court Voids 26-Year-Old Labor Law

PHOENIX,—The state supreme court held unconstitutional Arizona's 26-year-old labor "blacklist" law on grounds it violates the due process of law clause of the federal and state constitutions.

The law made it a felony to discharge any worker for membership in any labor organization.

OVER IN LONDON

The people scurry to their holes like rabbits.
Oh, every night before the darkness falls.
Late in the afternoon they're in the subway,
Thus shielded by its gray and gloomy walls.

For about ten hours they stay there in the shelter
And sleep among the hundreds all around.
It's very shocking, yet it's just that way,
Nice human beings hiding in the ground.

They do not know the answer to the puzzle.
The rulers, not the masses, are to blame.
"Cause and effect" have followed all through history.
Seek out the root of misery in this game.

—Emelda Deshaies.

"The custom in the White House is that the President, out of his salary, pays for all food for the servants and for the family with their unofficial guests, but an official entertainment. where both political parties are represented, is paid for out of a government fund. If the President invites a number of Senators for breakfast or lunch, he must be sure not to have them all of one political faith. Otherwise he pays for the meal out of his own pocket."—Mrs. Fraklin D. Roosevelt.

OUR PRESIDENT addressed the nation Saturday night in a call upon their patriotism to give their supreme effort to the defeat of totaliatarianism and dictatorships which threaten to spread over the entire world. And well we should do just what the President asked. Meanwhile, let us watch our step and repel with equal vigor any move in our own country and in our government which would lead to the very same condition of government as now exists in much of Europe, although, in our country, the idea would be going under another name.—Daily Times-Advocate, Escondido.

"Eventually we as a nation must deny ourselves many things," says Mrs. Roosevelt. Let's begin in Washington at the White House.

Windbag Winchell in one of his propaganda bragcasts, said that one of the things some of the Americans, most Americans could do with out is Lindbergh. Although that remark is not in accord with many, many American's ideas, still the thought of "things we can do without", isn't a bad one, if applied to Winchell himself and his ilk including the Roosevelts.—Printer.

Good WORD — Good DEED

Mazdaznan Office Stands Alone

21, Thornton Way, Hampstead,
London, N. W. 11., England.

Tony Iverson, San Diego.

Dear Uncle Tony,

Greetings of Good Health and Good Cheer!

For your kindly greetings and enquiries many thanks. Yes, we are still carrying on the good work. Master used to say "what can be shaken shall be shaken" and this is indeed true in these days when men desperately strive to gain supremacy over one another regardless of the Divine Laws which eventually put all their struggles to naught.

Yes, from the world's standpoint I suppose life is dangerous over here. Our house windows were blown out and the roof tiles blown off by the blast of a nearby bomb. These were quickly replaced and we were soon snug again. The office building at 47, Berners Street was also hit by a big bomb and completely demolished except my office which was the only one left and still stands like a sentinel amid destruction perched on the top of the stone staircase. All the rest of the building and the next one have disappeared taking three to the grave in the debris. Old London is like a woman who has been in a fight but who has tidied up her hair but still bears a few scratches on her face to show she has been in the struggle.

Well, we sure had to find some way of carrying on the work entrusted to us by Master so as the people cannot come to hear the Message and to learn of our breathing technique, we had to try and get the Message over to them in a way that distance would be no obstacle. So, the Correspondence Course came to be written. We have also advertised in the leading magazine The Teacher's World. This paper has over 100,-000 readers and goes to most schools over here. So all will have a chance as we shall advertise in several other papers.

We often think of those happy hours we spent with you and the associates in dear old sunny California. Do you remember the vase which your beloved companion made which you so kindly gave to Lady Winifred, well it stands on our mantlepiece and is a daily reminder of you both.

This course also gives all who wish to help an opportunity to help us in these difficult days, and many oldtimers have taken the lessons to help matters along.

I'm glad to say we are all very well and busier than ever. We all join in sending our united love and blessings to you and all the dear ones. Don't worry we shall see it through as promised in the 91st Psalm.

Ever devotedly, ST. JAMES.

This library is planning to round out its collection of material relating to the present world situation and hopes to include your newspaper among its holdings. Our periodical room is used by many hundreds of people each day and we should like very much to make The Broom available for their use. We shall be grateful if you will place us on your mailing list and also for any back numbers which you may be able to furnish."

You folks in San Diego will never be able to say that you did not know what was coming. I am very unpopular in certain quarters because I see behind the scenes and am able to interprete local, national and world events on their real background. I told you in 1936 what would happen if the New Deal got another four years of it. It all came to pass inspite of the sweet scented promises of the candidate who won at the polls. None of his promises were kept. He proved my point. In 1940 mine was the first paper to announce Wendell Willkie as the Republican dark horse while our daily papers were as usual asleep on the job. And I went further, I announced what former Gov. Phil LaFollette called "a fixed election" in his talk at the Russ auditorium and I told you then, ahead of all other papers in San Diego, that it does not matter which one gets elected, they both will take us into war step by step, regardless of their campaign promises. Naturally, such libraries, like Harvard, are interested to collect the records of the American press that was not asleep on the job but sounded the tocsin in time, if we are to retain our American liberties.

HEALTH-GERMS

By George Starr White, M. D.

SELF-PITY

Self-pity means having pity for oneself, or in other words, being sorry for yourself. This state of mind is a dis-ease of the mind; or, should I say, it is a quirk in the thinking mechanism.

Dr. Geo. Starr White

Comparison is the only measuring stick we have to use in diagnosing the severity of this very prevalent mental dis-order, which was known to the ancients as mental constipation.

We judge distance by comparing an unknown distance by one that we know. If we be strong and like to walk, a mile is as a "few steps". On the other hand, if we do not like to walk and are naturally lazy, a mile seems like "a long way". So the personal equation has to be largely reckoned with in giving a prognosis as well as prescribing a relief or cure.

Don't be sorry that U have a weak stomach. Be thankful that your stomach has sense enuf to cry out when it is hurt. Those who "can eat everything", are to be pitied, for an ulcer or a cancer might suddenly appear because U had not been forewarnd.

Don't be sorry that U have to work for a living. Think of the thousands who would be glad to work, if they could find a job, or were strong enuf to work, if the opportunity appeared.

Don't be sorry that U are "def". Think how sorry U would be if U could hear "everything".

Don't be sorry that U are single, or that U are not "popular". Remember that there are as many divorces as there are marriages, and that most of the marriages are the results of "popularity" misunderstood.

Don't be sorry that U are "poor". Think of the real sorrow that "easy money" brings. If everybody were "poor" there would be no wars.

Don't be sorry U are not a politician. A politician is one who cannot run his own business, but undertakes to run the business of others.

Don't be sorry that U are not like this one or that one. Others have "fleas" on their backs, whether U see them scratching or not.

Don't be sorry that U are not a nurse. Yesteryear it was a noble profession, but today a nurse is under such political control that she is compelled to often "border on the brute". I, personally have stood by and heard a "Red-Cross nurse" tell starving persons that she would not allow them to have a morsel to eat, unless they would submit to vaccination and hocus-pocus serum inoculations. I heard one of these unfortunate flood victims tell a "Red-Cross nurse" that he would die of starvation rather than have his blood poluted. I heard the "Red-Cross" nurse" say that she was under the control of Official Medical Doctors and had to "obey orders". Never be sorry that U are not a nurse! One may well be sorry that any modern woman could be so deceived.

Don't be sorry that U are not like this one or that one. It is U and U alone, that is accountabl to a HYER POWER—The Power that gives the last orders!

Many are born with handicaps, so-cald, of one kind or another. We all are naturally sorry for any person who is thus born into this savage world, but there is a reason for every birth handicap. The one so born is not to blame. Please bear in mind that this life is but a short one at the longest, but that after this life we enter into a "new adventure"; and that in the life beyond we go up or down according to how we made use of our opportunities in this life.

Envy nobody. Be glad that your life is not so bad as many U can find about U. Always try to better yourself, but not at the detriment of others. Selfishness begets hate; Hate begets FEAR; FEAR is the worst of all dis-eases, as HATE IS THE MAKER OF WARS. No war can go on without HATE. The Warmungers' God is GOLD. If the lust for GOLD were no more—there would be no more war!

Everything that's sweet and fair
Is forgotten, left behind
Brutal fury rules the mind.

C'est la guerre! C'est la guerre!

FACE THE FACTS: LEARN THE TRUTH

(History is made by, at first, a few far-seeing and resolute individuals openly defying oppressive governmental decrees which brings punishment upon them. The reasoning by which they find support for thus exposing themselves to popular censure and official punishment is of lasting historical value. Pastor Allen's sermon of Feb. 23, 1941, whish was entirely independent of the stand taken by the church; also, together with the Cornell Bros., statement to the jury which the Court forbid presentation to the jury, are of that nature. If there are enough orders for this double pamphlet to justify doing so, these statements will be published in pamphlet form Order now at 10c each, $1. per doz. B. V. Herald, Middleton, Idaho.)

Pastor James K. Allen Family

For four years, Pastor James K. Allen stressed the relationship between man and God, and between man and man to the people of Fruitland. For four years, both by precept and example, he had taught the people of his community that, in the realm of human relations, as in that of horticulture, grapes are not gathered from thorns. For four years the lesson of Pastor Allen's ministry to his little Idaho community.— in the little every-day neighborhood matters — was both human and Christian and when condensed into one of the shortest and most sensible, as well as most comprehensive sentences ever written reads as follows: "What doth Christianity consist of, but to love mercy, walk humbly and deal justly?"

I say, as Pastor Allen's ministry had to do with the day-by-day affairs of the little town of Fruitland, that was the lesson of his ministry. Then the day came when government decreed him to sign his endorsement of that which was neither patriotic nor Christian. That is where this Methodist Pastor faced a crisis. Pastor Allen says that according to the Chinese definition, a crisis is a balancing of two situations, namely, danger and opportunity.

I am speaking of a Methodist pastor, of which there are scores of thousands. These individual pastors, each in his own way, which is to say, each, according to his understanding, as that understanding is modified by environment, and devotion to an ideal, is an agent either of progress or of reaction within the range of his influence. As a modifier of the light of personal understanding, one of the greatest of these "environmental" circumstances, is the thing we call moral courage.

In the realm of patriotic and religious experience, moral courage corresponds to physical courage in the physical realm. Both patriotic and religious experiences are like physical experience also, in that, "action", rather than "preaching" or "professions" or claims, is the thing that proves its genuineness.

In framing the conscription act, Mars set a trap or snare for the Prince of Peace. He baited that trap with "special favor", or "appeasement" approach. The law was so worded as to make it possible for a person who takes his "brotherhood" relationship to his fellow man seriously, to be excused from participation in the act of killing and destroying at the command of another, by signing his endorsement of the law in general but by furnishing proof that he, individually, is conscientiously opposed to killing.

From the standpoint of making a conscription law practical, no complaint can be made against this law. But to those who see the principle of conscription as Daniel Webster so well put it, "incompatible" — destructive — of free government, there is an insurmountable bar to such endorsement of it, if one is to preserve his dignity as a free man, not to mention the added obligation of preserving his dignity of being a free Christian man. By ignoring his obligation of Christian citizenship and docilely endorsing the law in its application to the common man. Pastor James K. Allen could have retained his "institutionalized" respectability; retained his place in the bosom of his family but he would have done both at the cost of both patriotic and Christian dignity.

By Charles H. Ingersoll
(Of Dollar Watch Fame)

NEW YORK, (Radio Broadcast)—

'Grapes of Wrath' has just reached me in my secondhand film mart at 42nd, Broadway and 8th Ave., and makes me realize what my loyalty to this phase of mass production and popular price costs me. It takes a headliner like this film longer to reach the low price movie house but it is sure to arrive.

Ingersoll

Also the same week came from Spain—'Heritage'.

Both of these films are nearly 100% propaganda for a sane economic system. Both portray the irrepressible conflict conducted, largely unconsciously, by man for his only source of subsistence, the soil.

The fact that this basic theme attracts the attention and commands all the resources of authors, playwrights, and produces, is powerful evidence that the 'land question' is fundamental to all others, as also is the public interest, the box-office proof.

The persistence of the 'Economic Film' is significant. The two mentioned are part of a series of at least six that have been highly successful within a year. Is it possible that this is the unexpected way in which humanity is to be lifted from its present hopelessness?

How is it that a film writer and author can see as vital what a college professor, a statesman, a minister of economics, cannot. Is it because he is a specialist in humanity, while they are mere experts (the kind that have 'learned more and more about less and less, until they know everything about nothing')?

To correct People's distress and poverty with the land, the earth, the soil, is not elsewhere being done successfully, popularly.

The distress and poverty are easy to see, and also a variety of immediate and secondary causes. 26,000,000 New Dealers see that much, as do the reform-mongers, terminating in a collection of Marxisms. But of leaders and creators of thought and sentiment, none but playwrights seem to be able to see the whole picture, and even attempt to reach the root cause.

These spectacles, dramas, or tragedies, doubtless get their popularity more from the dynamic effects of basic monopoly, than from the cause that lies so quietly under the surface.

'Grapes of Wrath' uncovers to the urban sophisticate the world of abject slavery existing among the sharecroppers, renters, and small farmers who, for various reasons, are evicted en masse from their land and homes, and set adrift on a sea of what has come to be labelled 'migratory workers'. Here they concentrate their last dollars on an open truck on to which are loaded a dozen people and their belongings, and they head for the California Utopia, where jobs are reported to be plentiful. But not only are they found overrun by competition, but they find at every turn that their 'enemy the state' is against them. So from paupers they are also made criminals.

And it's much the same story in the 'Heritage' of Spain, where suffering from this basic monopoly is longer established and more poignant.

Here for motive is taken the monopoly of water, without which land is worthless. And the revolt against owners of the water to supply their irrigation ditches, is more like their late civil war that started with 60,000 of these sharecroppers, who were tenants of the grandees and CHURCH, who had made of the Spanish people tresspassors on their own soil—just as Lloyd George said the landlords had done to 47,000,000 Englishmen!

'Our danger is more from Communism than Fascism', answers a voice to the present hubbub over Hitler and the Nazis. And few of these 'voices' know how close to each other are these ISMS—how they both mean the domination of the state over all, the individual at zero, and a dictator. And how little difference it makes if he dictates for the economic royalist or the proletariat.

FIVE VICIOUS GERMANS

The Story of an Amazing Plot in World War Days

By HERBERT S. MACE

Only when you have read the story of "Five Vicious Germans" can you realize why the secrets of our Secret Service Department, Intelligence Office, Police Departments and other departments seeking to enforce the laws and protect our nation from its foes were so carefully guarded, and why espionage laws were necessary. To these guardians of the law our country owes much. They solved many a perplexing problem, traced many a clew, caused many arrests, sent many men to jail, and, while this work cost the nation millions of dollars, it solved some mysteries that might never have been solved if these men had not have been so active. Their records would be interesting reading, but it is only now and then that some story leaks out, and I can assure you that it was not thru the records of the case of the "Five Vicious Germans" that I learned the story, for their record was most carefully and jealously guarded. By chance I happened to be in Centerville at the time this amazing plot unfolded, and by chance I knew some of the parties concerned, so was able to secure the inside story as the plot unfolded, as our secret service agencies solved the mystery and brought to an end the plot. Now that the hatred of war has largely passed away, now that the secret can be revealed without endangering the country in any way, I believe that others will be interested in the story, in seeing how our government works to protect its people, and how these brave, fearless men solve many perplexing problems, starting on the smallest clews.

The City of Centerville was one of the first to feel the effects of the war, being a large manufacturing center and having a large powder mill just south of the city limits. It grew by leaps and bounds after the outbreak of the World War in 1914. By the time that our country entered the war it had doubled its population, and had all classes of people in it. The original population was largely Dutch and German gardeners, so naturally, with the increase in population, many Germans came to Centerville. The combination of a large German element, a powder mill, steel factories, and a 100% American Chamber of Commerce, with a large group of over-zealous 100 percenters, was not the best for peace within the community.

Fifty Germans and other suspicious characters had been laid off at the powder mill, among them Mr. Hans Goetz. Mr. Hans Goetz had come to America as a small boy with his father. His father had taken out naturalization papers but had passed away before becoming an American citizen. His mother believed that Hans was an American citizen and had raised the boy as such. For twenty-five years, Mr. Hans Goetz had been voting, working, living as an American citizen. A few months before the outbreak of the war, his friends had urged him to seek election and his opponents in seeking "mud to throw", discovered that Mr. Hans Goetz was not an American citizen. The laying off of Mr. Hans Goetz created quite a bit of bitter feeling among the men, as Mr. Goetz had kept himself poor befriending other people. At the outbreak of the World War his two oldest sons had gone to Canada and enlisted in the Canadian Army and were at the time on the Battle Fields of France. A hot head who spoke without thinking had said that the powder mill would get "its" for the action. He was promptly reported to the police, arrested, railroaded out of town—to where, no one knew.

From whenceforth the police, the secret service men, the army officers and the many patriotic organizations of the city were on the hunt for German spies and traitors. Clews rushed into headquarters by the hundreds, extra guards were stationed at the more important factories and the powder mills.

The time, the place, and conditions were right for the hatching and carrying out of a plot against the nation by a blow at the powder mills when the police of Centerville first got clews of a plot being hatched and carried out by the "Five Vicious Germans".

The time we have mentioned, except to say that a storm had caused the river to raise several feet, and was drenching the city, causing the people to stay inside, and had temporarily put the power-house out of commission and left the city in darkness. That day the guards at the bridge below the city, for Centerville was a busy Mississippi River city, had reported that an attempt had been made to blow up the bridge and that a battered rowboat with ropes, a sledge hammer and a German dictionary had been found on the shore below the bridge.

The place, Centerville, was a rough, hilly city on the river from which hundreds of little ridges and canyons ran back to a large timber and farming section. On the South side, near the powder mills, there were several long, narrow, deep, winding, wooded canyons. On the ridge of one of these were several dwellings and a number of deserted barns and cabins, one of which we are concerned with.

That the powder mill was marked for destruction, all were convinced; but the authorities were helpless. Every clew had been followed to the end. All the Germans of the city were registered and were being closely watched. Nothing could be done but just wait, wait, wait, until some new clew was found. At four o'clock the clouds had made the city dark. For two solid hours the police just sat in darkness—thinking, thinking, thinking about the many ways in which the powder mills might be blown up; or answering the telephone, which was busy a good share of the time.

Gunning for Radio

(Over KGB, Wednesday 7:15 pm, March 27, 1941)

The American Press, a monthly magazine, published in New York for the benefit of weekly editors, carries in its March issue a timely article by Don Robinson:

"Newspaper publishers have never liked the "you hold 'em and I'll smack 'em" kind of fighting. They've always been champions of fair play and fair competition. But evidently some of the men in the newspaper shops don't feel that way about it. Or else they have not given enough consideration to the ethics of a plan they are promoting. I'm referring to an announcement by John B. Haggerty, chairman of the Board of Governors of the International Printing Trade Association, in which he said that 15,000 publishers of newspapers will be urged to support legislation aimed at restricting the sale of commercial time on radio and imposing heavy taxes on broadcasting stations. He admitted that the reason for such legislation would be to help get back the jobs of 25,000 persons connected with printing trades who are out of work because (as he alleged) of the inroads radio has made into advertising expenditures. I'd like to see those men get their jobs back. And I'd like to see newspapers get back a lot of advertising which they have lost to radio. But putting handcuffs on radio while publishers go out and try to grab that lost advertising would give Mr. Ickes something really worth talking about in his criticism of the press. If we're going to go in for that kind of stuff, maybe we ought to go whole hog and get a law to curb magazine advertising, billboard advertising—and, in the weekly field, while we are about it, we might as well throw in daily newspaper advertising. Then we'd have the field all to ourselves, and we could go places!"

Don Robinson closes his article with the same advice I gave the daily papers two months ago when I first commented on this type of legislation in my broadcast over this station, he says: " . . the best insurance that newspapers can take out for their future is to publish such a good newspaper that it is admired, respected and carefully read by every person in the community."

You Hold 'em and I'll Smack 'em

(Over KGB, Wednesday 7:15 pm, March 27, 1941)

I left Europe and especially turned my back on the job I had in British employ in India, because of the burocracy that ruled with an iron hand and did not permit free enterprise in business as we know it in this country. I have learned from bitter experience that wherever burocracy rules there is a tie-up behind the scenes whereby office holders, or the class that is the government, derives a benefit from the stranglehold they have on business. To give you an example:

You know that our California State Board of Equalization administers the liquor laws and licensing of saloons, cocktail bars, etc. Suppose that suddenly members of the enforcement department became active or silent partners in a business that was selling equipment, fixtures, ingredients that go into the making of cocktails. What chance do you figure a man would have who ignored the hints that certain fixtures, or certain ingredients were of a superior quality to the ones sold by the regular trade?!

We have had this kind of discrimination in the labor rackets where whole unions were ruled by certain gangs and anybody who did not buy from the gangruled concerns was blacklisted and put out of business. This is a condition which we cannot tolerate and expect American liberty and good government to survive, no matter how many destroyers we send to England to fight the Nazis. The destruction of American standards of life begins from within, in fact is going on now, while our eyes are rivetted on what is going on in the old world. Free enterprise and free competition, free opportunities for everybody is what we must aim at and must materialize if we are to survive as a free people.

American Santa Claus or April Fools

Editor, The Broom: Is it true that Canada requires and receives payment from England for all she sends her? I am told this is true.

America is now to play Santa Claus to all the world opposing Germany. Every one of us, and I mean not only the rich, but every one of us, will pay heavily for endless years for this stripping of ourselves to give to Europe and Asia.

The government tells us we are in this war to "save democracy"—save it to become a complete dictatorship ourselves. What democracies are we saving? Greece is a dictatorship, also Turkey and China. England has had to become one. Every step in America the last year has been toward a complete dictatorship. Are Americans blind?

Do they believe only what they are propagandized into believing?

SARAH TILLINGHAM JONES.

You need not tell all the truth unless to those who have a right to know it all. But let all you tell be truth.—Horace Mann.
